

Contents

Special issue: Expectations and utility in eighteenth century knowledge economies

RESEARCH ARTICLES

- Expectations and utility in eighteenth-century knowledge economies: Notes and Records special issue introduction
L Stewart and KJ Whitmer 111
- Deprogramming Baconianism: The meaning of Desiderata in the eighteenth century
V Keller 119
- Projects and pedagogical expectations: Inside P. J. Marperger's 'golden clover leaf' (Trifolium), 1700–1730
KJ Whitmer 139
- Experimentation in the agricultural enlightenment: Place, profit and norms of knowledge-making in eighteenth-century Germany
D Phillips 159
- What is a useful university? Knowledge economies and higher education in late eighteenth-century Denmark and central Europe
D Hünninger 173