

NOTES AND RECORDS

Volume 72 | Issue 3 | 20 September 2018

THE ROYAL SOCIETY JOURNAL OF THE HISTORY OF SCIENCE

Contents

---

EDITORIAL

Life histories, or history comes to life 195

RESEARCH ARTICLES

Selling visions: Kantianism, Cameralism and applied science realized through encyclopaediae in Germany and beyond 199
R Bud

Humphry Davy: a study in narcissism? 217
G Cantor

The hydrostatical works of George Sinclair (c.1630–1696): their neglect and criticism 239
ADD Craik

Victorian telegrams: the early development of the telegraphic despatch and its interplay with the letter post 275
J-F Fava-Verde

Einstein in Oxford 293
R Fox

A shared arena: the private astronomy lecturing trade and its institutional counterpart in Britain, 1817–1865 319
H-F Huang

Russian scientists and the Royal Society of London: 350 years of scientific collaboration 343
E Kolchinsky, U Hossfeld and GS Levit

Particular popular science: British scientists writing, speaking and broadcasting on science and religion from the 1980s 365
P Merchant

Robert Sibbald's Scotia Illustrata (1684): a faunal baseline for Britain 383
L Raye